

CHESAPEAKE BAY COMMISSION

Virginia Delegation Retreat

Eastern Shore of Virginia
August 11-12, 2022
Agenda

Thursday, August 11th

Virginia Institute of Marine Science's Eastern Shore Laboratory, Seaside Hall
40 Atlantic Ave
Wachapreague, VA 23480

12:00 P.M. Lunch & Welcome

1:00 P.M. Policy Issue I: Coastal Ecology & Aquaculture

The Eastern Shore Laboratory (ESL) serves as both a field station in support of research and teaching, as well as a site for resident research in coastal ecology and aquaculture. By virtue of its unique coastal location, the ESL affords educational and research opportunities on climate resilience not available elsewhere within the region.

Dr. Richard (Dick) Snyder

Professor and Director, Virginia Institute of Marine Science Eastern Shore Laboratory

2:30 P.M. Travel to Nickawampus Farm

23028 Nickawampus Road
Melfa, Virginia 23410

[The Farm is a four-mile, 10-minute drive from Wachapreague.]

2:45 P.M. Policy Issue II: Agriculture and Climate Resilience

Change in agriculture can arise for many reasons, ranging from simple to complex - such as environmental threats, generational change, commercial competition or development threats. In order to remain competitive, a comprehensive yet flexible approach is required. We will learn about the long-term changes seen on the property as well as the unique challenges of farming in coastal Virginia.

Ben Willis

Nickawampus Farm

Curt Smith

Deputy Director, Middle Peninsula Planning District Commission

4:30 P.M. Adjourn for the Day
